

out in the cold

Still Fishing for the Perfect Low Temperature Motion Detector?

If you've been feeling left out in the cold in your search for the ideal low temperature motion detector, have we got a hot new opportunity for you! Ideal for unheated sheds, garages, warehouses and more, Honeywell's exciting new IS2500LT is designed for temperatures as low as -40C. The IS2500LT is the newest member of Honeywell's popular IS2500 Series, a complete range of easy-to-install motion detectors featuring reliable detection, selectable pet immunity, improved false alarm protection and global compliance.

Best of all, it provides your customers with the protection they need while providing a great new opportunity for you. What could be cooler than that?

Honeywell